What's new

New Seasonal Fragrances

The season opens with Glowing Moments, a collection inspired by the seasonal shift from late summer into early autumn. Rooted in warmth, comfort, and everyday rituals, these fragrances set the tone for the second half of the year, inviting consumers to slow down, settle in, and savour the changing season through scent.

As momentum builds, Witches Coven brings Halloween into focus, responding to the growing appetite for early seasonal décor and immersive, fragrance-led storytelling. The season then culminates with Magical Christmas Moments, a collection that celebrates togetherness, tradition, and the small rituals that make the festive period feel meaningful. From the first preparations to moments shared around the home.

Reed Diffuser Expansion

Always-on fragrance continues to play an important role in how consumers scent their homes, and in 2H26 Yankee Candle expands its reed diffuser refill range to 5 new fragrances to support this everyday need. An effortless way to introduce scent into key spaces around the home.

Designed to complement candle rituals and encourage fragrance layering, the expanded reed diffuser range supports discovery, gifting, and incremental growth beyond the candle aisle.

Our Brand Purpose

"A fragrance for every moment"
is more than a purpose,
it's a guide for everything we do.

We believe fragrances can fill a room and much more.

They can create an immersive atmosphere, providing a powerful
backdrop for moments of comfort,
joy, and celebration.

It's an experience of true ambience
that no other candle can create,
and one we are proud to embody.

That's why, for decades,
we have been the trusted
candle in millions of homes,
known for our consistent,
room-filling fragrance.

This dedication ensures that every scent helps people connect more deeply with their cherished memories and create new ones.

A fragrance for
every moment

Every great
brand has a story,
ours began with love,
and a simple act
of inspiration.

Image Mike Kittredge

On a cold December night in Massachusetts, Mike Kittredge, a 16-year-old boy, sat at his family's kitchen table. Christmas was just around the corner and he did not have any money to buy a gift for his mother. Fortunately, his desperation led to inspiration. He decided to make a candle for his mother because it would be a completely unique and personal gift, something she would really appreciate.

“He knew she was
a little nostalgic
and that memories
and emotions were important to her.”

So he created a simple candle from everyday materials he found there in the kitchen, consisting of household wax, a red crayon, some string for a wick and a milk carton for the mould. A neighbour happened to see the candle before he could give it to his mother and was so impressed, she convinced him to sell it to her. With his new-found wealth, the teenager bought enough materials to make two new candles, one for his mother and another to sell.

Our origin story
is more than a nostalgic memory...

It's a legacy of creating authenticity, emotional connection, and memory-evoking fragrances that we are proud to build on. With the perfect balance of honouring our origin and evolving for the future, we can continue to elevate our fragrance experience.

This exciting new chapter creates a powerful, emotional and commercial connection,
and we're thrilled to share it with you.

Fragrance Information

Working with the world's most renowned fragrance houses and master perfumers, we bring you and your customers the latest trends in fragrance, colour and home décor. With their tools, technical knowledge and artistic sense, perfumers create fragrances that can evoke a variety of emotions and sensations.

Many of our candle fragrances contain natural essential oils and feature a harmonious blend of ingredients. These ingredients translate into fragrance notes that appear at different stages of the overall scent experience: top, middle, and base.

Our true-to-life fragrances evoke memories and emotions that you'll want to cherish forever. That's why Yankee Candle® is a trusted choice for quality, long-lasting fragrances.

Middle Note

These notes are the heart of the fragrance and make each scent unique. A mix of florals, fruits and spices.

Top note

The first impression – consisting of light and fresh notes like lemon, grapefruit and lavender. Fast to fade but very memorable.

Base Notes

Base notes mingle with middle notes to create a long-lasting impression. Notes of vanilla, musk and cedarwood construct its last impression.

At Yankee Candle®, we help consumers find their favourite fragrance by categorising our fragrances into 6 simple families. The fragrance family key will help you identify the family of your favourite fragrance! Some fragrances embrace notes from more than 1 of our olfactive families. In this case, you will see the colours of both olfactory families. The first will be the primary and the second the secondary.

For SKU details see page 46.

Love your candle

Communicating our candle care guidance to your customers is vitally important to ensure they have an optimal experience with our candles and get the most out of every moment.

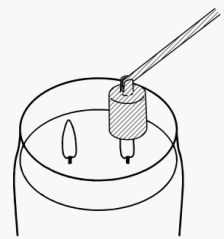

1 Trim your wick

Start each new moment by trimming the wick to 3mm before lighting. This ensures a clean, steady flame and a consistent, room-filling fragrance from the first light to the last.

2 Allow to pool

Your candle's first burn is an important moment. Let the top layer of wax liquefy and pool to the edges to avoid tunnelling. How long should this take? We recommend that for every 1cm in diameter, you burn for 30 minutes.

3 Use a Candle Snuffer

When the moment is complete, gently douse the flame with a snuffer. This prevents smoking and helps the fragrance linger beautifully in the air, allowing the atmosphere you created to slowly unfold.

4 Know when to say goodbye

We never like to see the end of our favourite fragrance, but once your candle wax is 1cm from the bottom; it's officially finished. Time to choose another favourite to burn.
